Designer: Elena Salmistraro

The shapes that are found in the patterns of the Apulian countryside, as well as in the simple and iconic architecture of the cities and farm houses, are the inspiration behind this set of trays which is part of the Posidonia collection by Elena Salmistraro.

Made of metal, the three concentric trays form a set with a strong aesthetic impact in their minimalist design. Elena Salmistraro has focused on the visual impact of the geometric shapes, the construction and deconstruction of classic styles adapted to the contemporary environment and demands of modern life. The lines of the elements are a common thread running through all the decorative styles that the designer has used to adorn her new collection for Natuzzi Italia, the hallmark of the Mediterranean mood and the brand's expertise.

COMMERCIAL FEATURES & BENEFITS

- A functional set of three concentric trays, adaptable thanks to the triad of delicate and current finishes.
- To be placed separately as a valet tray or to be stacked for a perfect Vitruvian result.
- Ciambotte takes up some details and colors of the rug and plaid, telling the graphic geometry of Posidonia and expressing it in metal.
