Kendo

Introducing Kendo: a modular sofa designed by Manzoni & Tapinassi, combining exceptional comfort with timeless beauty. Its refined design features a solid-wood base with a sleek metal insert, reminiscent of an oriental mark. Fully upholstered on all sides, Kendo adapts perfectly to any space and style, available in linear and corner compositions, with or without chaise-longue.

Design by Manzoni & Tapinassi

The fascinating encounter between the extensive experience of Professor Roberto Tapinassi and the expressive originality of architect Maurizio Manzoni began in 2001. From the start, the two designers found common ground in their decision to develop ideas around contemporary living and their desire to present innovative solutions that aim to build on the Italian philosophy of forward-looking, research-based design.
